

Down at the Depot

Richard Love

3/25/04

The train pulled into the station, the rain was pouring down

Train pulled into the station, the rain was pouring down

It was a night like this, when my baby left this town

But that was then, and baby, this is now

That was then, and baby, this is now

I know I will get past, this empty feeling somehow

So I'm down at the depot, I'm just biding my time (Chorus)

Down at the depot, I'm just biding my time

Waiting for the girl who, just left someone else behind

(Instrumental Verse)

I know tomorrow, the sun be shining down

I know tomorrow, the sun be shining down

And I'll be waiting for the train to, bring me some new girls into town

So I'm down at the depot, I'm just biding my time

Down at the depot, I'm just biding my time

Waiting for the girl who, just left someone else behind

Waiting for the girl who, just left someone else behind

Revised 3/28/05