Nine o'clock in the evening, I'm in the best suit that I own
E B A G E
She'll call me when she's coming, I'm waiting by the telephone

I'm just sitting here watching, the phone hanging on the wall
The clock just keeps on ticking, waiting for my baby to call
Waiting for my baby to call, waiting for my baby to call
The clock just keeps on ticking, waiting for my baby to call

Fifteen minutes to midnight, I hear a loud ringing noise
My heart jumps as I answer, but it's not my baby's voice
Friend tells me he just saw her, wearing a sexy red dress
Dancing with some younger guy, they were in a tight caress

I'm just sitting here watching, the phone hanging on the wall
The clock just keeps on ticking, waiting for my baby to call
Waiting for my baby to call, waiting for my baby to call
The clock just keeps on ticking, waiting for my baby to call

Woke up to a loud banging, my baby's knockin' on the door
'Phone's been ringing like crazy, been dialin' 'til my finger's sore
Think your phone must be broken, come on sleepy head let's run'
Guess I must have been dreaming, 'Baby let's go have some fun'
